PRESIDENT'S REPORT

New Season of Events and Activities

September is the start of a new season of events and activities. There are five CBM community events in September. All but two are held at the community centre. One exception is the Community Cleanup event on Sunday, September 8, that is held in the parking lot behind Historic Holy Angels School. The other exception is Trivia Night on Thursday, September 26, which is held at Joyce on 4th. More details are elsewhere in this newsletter, including the Community Calendar. More information is posted on our website, www.cliffbungalowmission.com, closer to each event. Join your neighbours and help make this another successful season.

Hardwood Floor Refinished

In July, when school was out and the community hall was accessible during the day, we had the hardwood floor refinished. It looks wonderful. We now need to take better care of it, so it looks better longer. That means we cannot drag or slide the chairs or tables across the hardwood floor. We have a new dolly that can be used for chairs, or the chairs and tables will need to be carried into the storage closet. The other thing that is very bad for the finish is the use of any type of tape on the floor. That will no longer be allowed. See the picture of the refinished floor and you will understand why we want to take better care of this beautiful and historic hardwood floor.

There is an interesting story about how we discovered the hardwood floor in our hall. When we took over this space in 1988 to serve as our community centre hall, we took out the wall between two classrooms. In the process we discovered there were layers of floor. On top was linoleum. Underneath that was plywood. Then there was this beautiful hardwood floor. Most likely the Calgary Board of Education decided that the hardwood floor was too hard to keep up, and covered it with something more practical. Anyway, later we decided to uncover the layers on the west side and have been using it ever since then.

THE CLIFF BUNGALOW - MISSION JAZZ SERIES

Cliff Bungalow Jazz Series

Django
meets Mingus!

Jeremy Gignoux Acoustic Ensemble

With Wayne Garrett, guitar
Ben Longman, guitar
Aaron Scholpp, double bass

WEDNESDAY, SEPT 4TH,
DOORS AT 7:30PM SHOW AT 8PM
2201 CLIFF ST SW

$15 ($10 FOR MEMBERS, STUDENTS AND SENIORS)

No reservations taken; rush seating only

We recommend you come early, enjoy a beverage, and get a good seat.

While anchoring in the style created by Django Reinhardt and Stéphane Grapelli in the 1930's, the music played by the Ensemble borrows repertoire and inspiration from other currents of jazz, such as Thelonious Monk or Charles Mingus, as well as European folklore. They will play original compositions, as well as arrangements of standards.

Jeremy Gignoux is ever oscillating between calling himself a violinist or a fiddler. Playing within those lines, he has developed an original sound and technique.

Jeremy loves collaborating with other performing arts, and played for two Decidedly Jazz Danceworks productions (with William Parker and Nick Fraser Ensembles), and a folk musical with Rosebud Theatre. In 2017, he was composer and sole musician for Catherine Hayward's piece form, act, cease, ensue in Dancer's Studio West's Metamorphosis.

2019-2020 Schedule

- September 4: Jeremy Gignoux
- October 2: Rick Climans Quartet
- November 6: Aimee-Jo Benoit
- December 4: Johnny Summers
- January 8: Redline Trio
- February 5: Al Muirhead Quartet
- March 4: Esteban Herrera Trio

Copeman Healthcare to open expanded clinic in Mount Royal Village

New, modern facility an indication of strengthening local economy

A new 20,000-square-foot healthcare facility offers Calgary residents even greater opportunity to manage their well-being. And it's also a sign of a healthier local economy.

The new Copeman Healthcare Centre in Calgary opened its doors Monday, August 26. Located at 16th Avenue and 8th Street SW, the facility features more than 30 clinical offices, a large on-site laboratory and an expanded fitness and training facility, making it one of the largest healthcare clinics in the province.

"Our previous location served both staff and clients well, but this new space allows us to better accommodate our current needs and provides room to continue growing," says Director, Operations and Client Experience, Susan Aldcorn.

Copeman team members, including all physicians, are joined at the new location by their Medisys Executive Health colleagues who are part of the Medisys Health Group, Canada's leading provider of comprehensive, preventive and corporate healthcare solutions.

"What Copeman Healthcare shares in common with Medisys is a dedication to providing excellent healthcare through our preventative, customer-centric approach. The newly upgraded facility was specifically designed with our client's experience in mind and includes improved client amenities, more space and more room to expand our service offerings," says Aldcorn.

Case in point, a larger gym and enhanced exercise medicine and rehabilitation service options will allow for the launch of a new musculoskeletal program focusing on arthritis management, joint health and injury recovery.

For those unfamiliar with Copeman's care model, it is best described as exceptional primary care. Copeman clinics are staffed with a talented multi-disciplinary team, delivering prevention-focused healthcare in an unhurried, on-time fashion. Copeman's programs range from annual health assessments to year-round care for adults, children and young adults.

New healthcare clinic signals robust economy

"I think this move is one more indication regarding the health of the Calgary economy," notes Louis Kelemen, Corporate Business Development Manager who is well versed in Calgary's prevailing economic strength. "After a few tough years, we can see things are beginning to shift in a positive direction for the city and province."

In fact, The Calgary and Region Economic Outlook for 2019 to 2024 predicts Calgary's GDP and population will continue to grow as unemployment and downtown vacancy rates drop. And the most recent TD Provincial Economic Forecast found that Calgary is seeing economic traction. But maybe the most reliable sign of an improving economy is the fact that the 2019 Calgary Stampede had the second-highest turnout ever!

"With the region's economy poised for steady growth in the next five years, we feel it's a perfect time to open a new clinic and ensure Calgarians have some of the country's leading primary care resources available to them," says Kelemen.

The Centre is located on the third floor of the new Mount Royal West Building, above Urban Fare and Canadian Tire, approximately five minutes' drive from Copeman's previous location.

HERITAGE HOME OF THE MONTH

The Laurence Apartments

Corner of 24 Avenue and 5 Street SW

by Robin Thompson

One of the reasons Cliff Bungalow-Mission is one of Calgary's great neighbourhoods is the wealth of heritage and character homes. After all, there is more than 145 years of history in our small corner of the city. Join us here each month for a look into some of our most iconic homes and apartments (which are homes, too, after all).

On the southeast corner is one of Cliff Bungalow-Mission's most sought-after apartment buildings: the Laurence Apartments. Built in 1929 by Arthur Himmelman, the Laurence is one of Calgary's few examples of California garden apartment-inspired design. Each of the 12 suites in this two-storey, wood frame and stucco building has its own front and back entrance. The Craftsman-style interiors feature hardwood floors and solid fir mantles and plate rails.

Himmelman named the Laurence after his son, who would live in the building for many years. Katie Grinham is Himmelman's granddaughter, Laurence's daughter. She and her sisters retain both buildings.

"These buildings are a part of my family's heritage and the community's heritage."

The Cliff Bungalow-Mission team ruled at the Federation of Calgary Communities Bowls, Beers, and Bites fundraiser on August 9. Despite losing two team members, Rob Jobst (left) and Brad Field took home first place honours. Why does Mr. Jobst look like a drowned rat, you ask? Because it rained throughout the entire evening.

What's Trending in Fitness?

When we are looking for a different shopping experience, we change the way we shop. This means driving past the mall to avoid the crowded parking lot and busy stores and heading to a boutique shop. Over the past several years this practice has been reflected in how we approach fitness. The rise of boutique gyms is giving people a different fitness experience.

At a fitness conference I attended this trend was the buzz. We are moving from the "all services in one" gym model to specialized and focused services, also known as boutique gyms. These gyms are small, provide group fitness classes and focus one or two areas in fitness. Barre, yoga, spin, boxing, circuit HIIT, are examples of the type of boutique fitness studios that you will find in different neighbourhoods in Calgary.

So, what's the draw?

Back in the day, I attended a small women's-only gym. What they lacked in cardio and weight equipment they made up in great fitness classes that cultivated a sense of community among members. This is what kept me going, the feeling of being connected with others who also enjoyed getting a challenging workout. I imagine this is part of the draw to boutique gyms. In addition to the social environment, people enjoy charismatic instructors, an exceptional workout atmosphere, and motivating music. These characteristics provide enough incentive for people to pay a bit more, approx. $20-30/class, to participate in a trendy fitness experience that their local gym may not offer.

It's clear that boutique gyms meet a need for people who are looking for a different fitness experience or looking to add to their current routine. Looking to try a boutique gym? Check out Avenue magazine's list of boutique gyms to try (<https://www.avenuemagazine.com/Things-to-Do/Calgary-Boutique-Fitness-Spin-Barre-AntiGravity-Lagree-Surf-TRXP/>). I always encourage people to try something new because you may find something that you didn't know you were looking for.
